

SAKAI INFORMATION GUIDE

Overview Tab:

- Under this tab you will find basic information about the course, including:
 - My email address & office
 - A link to starfish (for office hours, etc.)
 - A link to a webpage containing pdf versions of the syllabus, lecture notes, Connect information, and this Sakai information guide
 - A link to a web page containing slides and other information from CHM 101 in case you need a refresher on any topics
 - A link to the TA Office Hour Schedule once that becomes available
 - A link to the course Connect registration site

Syllabus Tab:

- The syllabus can also be accessed via this tab.

Announcements Tab:

- This will be the primary tool that I will use to communicate with the class as a whole. Announcements will be used provide you with important information such as:
 - Reminders of class policies and updated information in the event of a class cancellation due to weather or other university-wide events (if necessary)
 - Information about upcoming exams
 - Other announcements as necessary

How To Study Tab:

- This tab provides links to a series of videos containing valuable suggestions that will help you achieve academic success. It is highly recommended that you watch these videos at the beginning of the semester.

Dr. Sandra McGuire Tab:

- Under this tab you will find a link to the talk that Dr. McGuire gave at URI during the Fall 2017 semester. It is highly recommended that you watch this videos at the beginning of the semester.

Gradebook:

- Your grades for each exam plus your homework/quiz average (updated periodically) will be posted under this tab. You should review your grades frequently so that you are always fully aware of where you stand in the class.